Week commencing: 21st March 2021, Passion Sunday

We move into Passiontide, the last two weeks of Lent, this Sunday, and time to reflect more deeply on Jesus' love for us through his suffering. Our service this Sunday will use the Service of the Word in Lent, for the last time. Next week, Palm Sunday, will use a different service and we will have a dramatic reading of the passion – on Zoom.

Morning Prayer continues daily, Tuesday – Saturday on Zoom at 9am; Evening Prayer, Friday at 5pm. Why not join in as we move into Passiontide?

Sundays at Six continues on Zoom at 6pm on first and third Sundays each month. The next will be TONIGHT, 21st March, when we are invited to the Riding Lights Passion Play, see later (and see the weekly email for joining details).

Thought for the week:

In the Calvary Chapel of the church of the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem there is a mosaic fresco of Jesus being nailed to the cross. To me, it is both stunningly beautiful and terrifyingly real. As he lies with arms outstretched, nails are driven into Jesus' wrists.

Today there is an altar in front of it. Some years ago, I was in the chapel and noticed that people were queuing to place their hands on the lower, outstretched hand of Christ. I queued to do the same thing.

It is impossible to describe the feeling as I placed my hand as near as I physically could into the hand of Jesus – at the very point where he was about to die, in the every place where it actually happened. The crucifixion became a very real event – as Jesus died for me – for every one of us.

In the Garden of Gethsemane, in the dungeon that Ralph describes so beautifully in his piece in this edition of Inspire, walking the Via Dolorosa (way of the cross, or sorrows) today, I find I am brought closer to the passion of Jesus.

Places can help us to reflect on just what Jesus did for us, on the cross.

But, of course, we don't have to travel to the Holy Land for that (indeed, right now, we simply can't!).

I wonder where you might find in the next couple of weeks that you can make your special place to be with Jesus, and accompany him to the cross, spending a little time each day thanking him, and reflecting on what his suffering means to you.

Children's Society: Lockdown hasn't stopped people giving generously to The Children's Society this year, as Kristina and Richard counted donations amounting to a total of £571.06.

Thank you to all those who handed their boxes in to Sally. Kristina will return these to you in the coming weeks. Kristina is liaising directly with The Children's Society to update the list of box holders which has diminished over recent years for various reasons, and will be seeking to understand from them if there are better, perhaps more convenient ways, for the St Luke's congregation to support this wonderful charity.

The pandemic has plunged families into poverty, leaving children isolated and scared about the future. Without the help of supporters, the Children's Society cannot counsel, support and campaign for the young people whose hopes and happiness are the most threatened by abuse, exploitation and neglect.

If you would like a box, please let Kristina know and she will provide you with one. But you don't have to have a box to support The Children's Society, you can simply write a cheque to church and pass to Richard Burdett who does all things necessary to make sure TCS receive the full amount. Or alternatively you could donate directly online following the link

: <https://www.childrenssociety.org.uk/how-you-can-help/donate>

Thank you for your continued support. Kristina Smith.

And our very own Revd. Canon Terrie Robinson has been appointed as the new Children's Society Ambassador for Oxford diocese. Terrie will tell us more about this voluntary role when she is commissioned in the summer.

Have you got your census letter? Census day is today - March 21, but households will now be receiving letters with online codes explaining how they can complete their forms. If you don't get one in the next couple of weeks, please get in touch with the census contact centre. You can also request a paper questionnaire if you'd prefer to complete your census that way.

There is lots of support available such as a help area on the census website and a contact centre that can give you help over the phone and guidance in a range of languages and accessible formats, including paper questionnaires and large print. You can also use your postcode to find local census support centres on the census website.

The Office for National Statistics (ONS) runs the census in England and Wales and is independent from the government. All information is held securely for 100 years. Statistics are only compiled based on anonymised data and personal information is not shared with any organisation and is never sold.

For more information, and to find out how to get help, visit census.gov.uk or call the contact centre on 0800 141 2021. Or contact one of the ministry team.
